

Evan Wood

Tewksbury High Graduate 2019

Graduated top 7% of his class

Evan plans to pursue a degree in Business Administration majoring in accounting at UMASS Amherst.

As a straight A student, maintaining a term average of 93 or better during his high school years, Evan was inducted into the National Honor Society and was awarded the John and Abigail Adams Scholarship. Each year of high school, Evan earned his name being put on the principal's list/Honor Roll.

Since age 14, Evan began volunteering with young children in his community as a summer counselor. Evan took a leadership role in this area. Overtime as he gained skill and responsibility, Evan engaged in organizing and facilitating activities as a mentor and role model for younger children in his care. In addition, Evan volunteered to officiate recreation basketball games where he shared his love for the game and taught the children skills and sportsmanship.

As a member of DECA Club, Evan learned many valuable skills that will assist him in his chosen profession. For those of you who do not know what DECA is here are a few words about the organization and their mission. The International Association of DECA focuses on Marketing, Management, Entrepreneurship in business and finance among other areas. Their Mission statement includes preparation of the next generation of community oriented, professionally responsible experienced leaders.

We wish Evan every joy over his accomplishments these years of high school along with every success in his future endeavors.
